Dedication To A Wonderful Person

The Publications Staff has decided to dedicate the 1981-1982 Bulldog to a woman who was more than a teacher to us. She was a friend, advisor, and someone we could fully trust.

Mrs. Joan Neal has taught Business Education courses at Leeton for 5 years. More than merely teaching classes, she has dedicated her time to helping the students with business related projects. She has helped with publishing the yearbook, flash, and programs. Without her willingness to help, these projects would not have been completed as well as they have been.

She was an excellent sponsor for this years senior class. Mrs. Neal & Mrs. Eckhoff have made our senior year a great success. We will never will forget all of their time and effort that they have spent helping us.

Again Mrs. Neal, we would like to thank you for being a teacher, a friend and a very remarkable person.

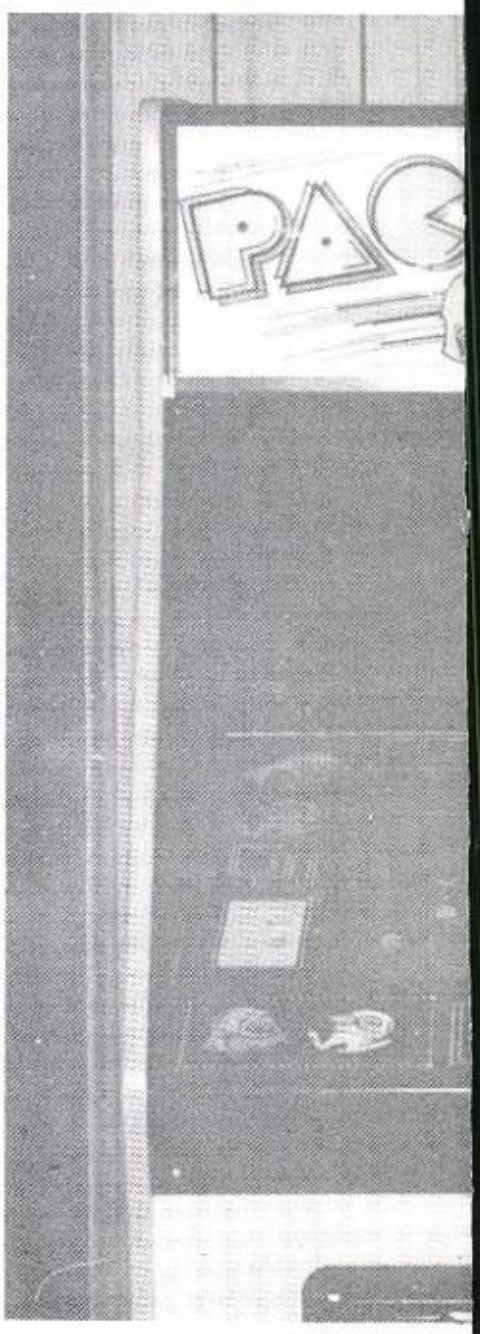
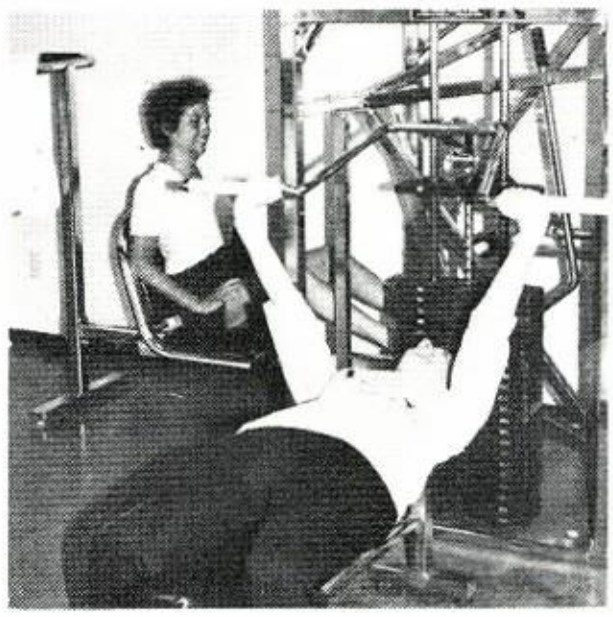
Memories

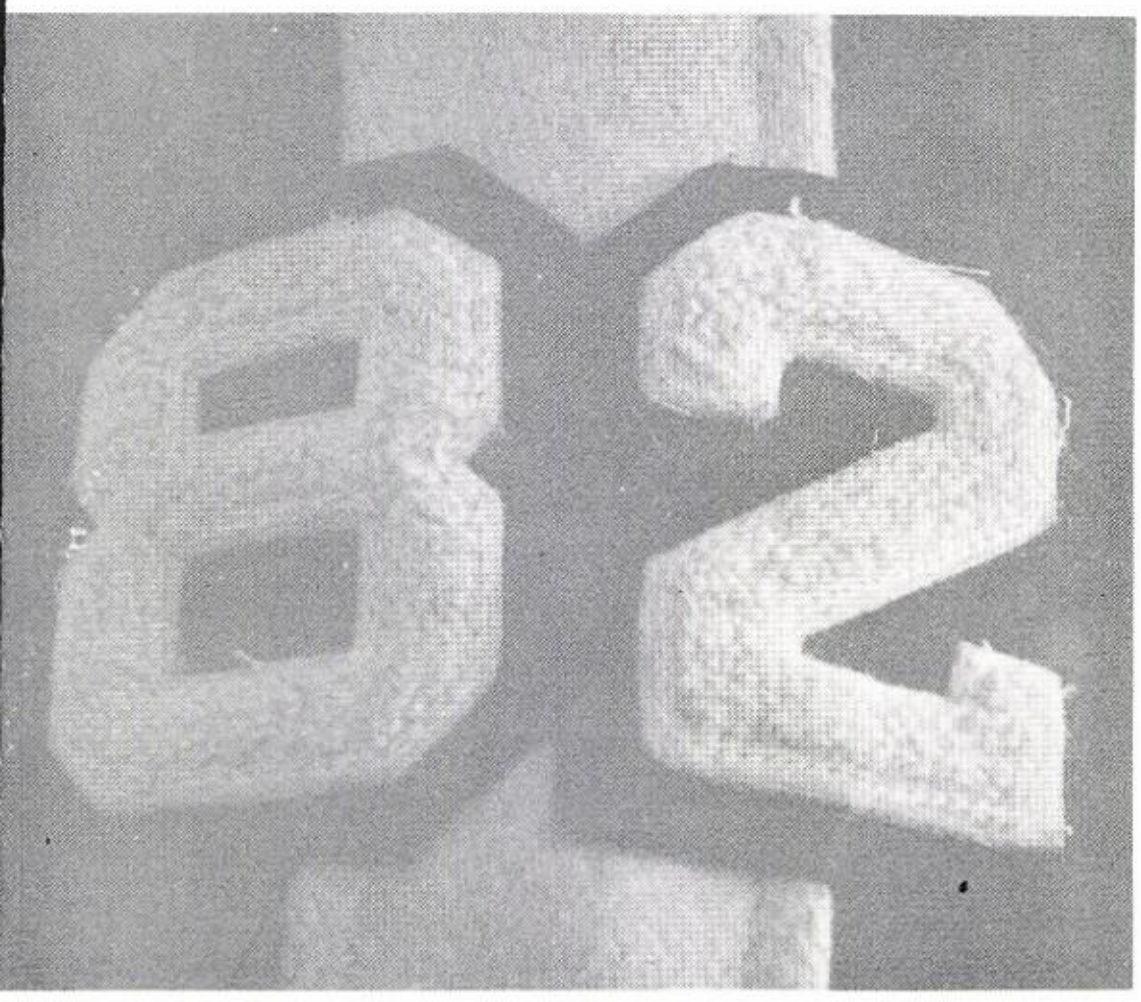
The 1981-82 school year will certainly be one to remember. This year many traditions were kept up, like students still drive around cruisin' Main Street, even though stop signs & cross walks were set up with mothers guarding them. Before school, making quick trips to Ditty's for munchies & going to DJ's after school to eat and play pool. There were a few new trends brought out, though, PAC-MAN became a big fad right along with eating sunflower seeds.

Miss Piggy was still a fad & many students designed our "gorgeous star" a new outfit (wasn't that sweet of them?)



Mrs. E. & Mrs. Neal picked up a new hobby-weight lifting. Watch out Mr. Universe & Coaches! The boring parts of the days were filled by listening to them talk about what new experience occurred at the Multi the night before.





Our school also caught an acute case of leakage. We had fun dodging the trash cans in the hall on the third floor & on the stairs. Actually we could have run an obstacle course, if Mr. Rustman would have allowed it.

As the 1981-82 school year ends, we can all remember the fun we had keeping up old traditions as well as creating new ones. We hope all the future LHS students will keep up the old traditions while making new & memorable ones.

An ordinary day at LHS finds students gathering around outside in the morning to visit before the bell rings for the day to start. Then there is the normal congregation of people in the halls between periods. During the lunch break students like to lie down and relax after eating lunch & soak up some sunshine before going back to class. Here are some pictures of an ordinary day at LHS.

As Seasons Pass ...

Porter Baker is a prominent citizen in our community. He was born to Charles and Ida Mae Baker on a farm outside of Leeton in 1899. He attended Leeton Elementary, and graduated from the Eighth grade in 1915. He was a member of the first Bulldog basketball team. The game that was played then was somewhat different than the game we play now. Theirs was played on an outdoor, cinder court. Mr. Baker remarked, "It got kinda' chilly when a light snaw fell." He also told us that the first game they played on an indoor court was when they played a game at Warrensburg at the college gymnasium. They lost the game because they were not used to playing on a slick floor. Other sports they had at Leeton were: Scrub, which is old-fashioned baseball, and "country" football. A past-time of the boys was to kick the ball on top of the building so that they could go through the attic to get it.

From Leeton he went on to Warrensburg to high school, (Leeton had no high school at the time). He attended there two years. After finishing high school, he went to Business School at Chillicothe, Missouri, where he took a six-month course. From there he went to the University of Missouri,and took classes there for six months.

Mr. Baker is probably best-known for being the President of Leeton Bank. He started work there in 1917, where he was supposed to work for six months. He's been a stockholder in the Bank since 1920.

But it's not Mr. Baker's age or the fact that he's the president of the town bank that makes him special to us. He is a unique person and a real credit to our community and our school. May we take this opportunity to thank him for all the support he's given us through the years.
